Description:

Chamber music is an opportunity to make music with your friends performing in small groups without a conductor. Performing chamber music is the ultimate training for teamwork.

Upon acceptance, individual students will be assigned to a duo, trio, or quartet. Pre-formed groups are also welcome.

CCYO students who have participated in previous CCYO Chamber Music Festivals have recently advanced to the finals of the Misbin Chamber Music Competition in Washington DC.

Fees and auditions:

CCYO (all groups) members: $60 per session, no audition required.

Non CCYO members: $100 per session, audition required. Contact Dr. Kivrak, CCYO Director, at kivrak@yahoo.com to schedule an online audition.

Deadline for application is June 15, 2023. Application forms can be found below and at charlescountyyouthorchestra.org.

See what previous CCYO Chamber Music students said:

“This camp was a great way to improve my musical ability during the summer. I've been exposed to new composers I've never heard before, such as Hovhanness. The programming was very interesting. I've never played any of these pieces before, so it was a great way to get out of my comfort zone. The music was not too difficult, but it was challenging enough to help me improve.” Kelsey N.

“The programming was really amazing. The music selections were very diverse, with baroque, classical, and contemporary pieces. It really helped me to learn to appreciate different genres of music. When I first listened to one of the pieces we had been given, I thought I wouldn't like it, but as I started to learn the piece, I really grew to love it. Being open to different types of music is extremely important as a musician and will encourage us to further our knowledge on the ever- changing subject of music.” Blythe M.
